1. The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81(c). No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). No drawings appear to have been filed in this application.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,182,922 to Allread et al. Allread et al discloses the claimed invention of a motor vehicle with ducting 23A-23I which connects a compressor 14 to the heat exchangers 11 and 12. The compressor 14 is attached to the engine (column 4, lines 29-30), and the heat exchangers 11 and 12 are attached to the vehicle body (column 3, lines 27-29). Pipe couplings 30 are disclosed for absorbing the vibration between the engine, compressor, and heat exchangers. However, Allread et al does not disclose the pipe conduits to have an outside diameter of less than 13 mm, or the working medium of the refrigeration system to be CO₂. The diameter of the pipe conduits 23A-23I is considered to be a matter of obvious design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art. No criticality or unexpected results are seen or have been disclosed for the outside diameter of the pipe conduits being less than 13mm. Moreover, one of ordinary skill in the art would have expected invention of Allread et al to perform as equally as well with the diameter of the pipe conduits disclosed therein as with the claimed diameters. Also, refrigeration systems that use CO₂ as the working medium are considered to be well known, and thus to modify Allread et al to use CO₂ as the working medium would be an obvious expedient to one of ordinary skill in the refrigeration art.
